SOUTHERN PACIFIC STARTS WORK ON P. & E.

The Southern Pacific company now has a force of men at work preparing the grade between Winkelman and Christmas preparatory to laying track from the latter to the former place, distant about nine miles. This is the piece of grade built by the Southern Pacific company up the Gila canyon, during their fight with the Santa Fe over the right of way between Kelvin and Winkelman. It is probable, now that the Southern Pacific has become owner of the P. & E. line from Phoenix to Winkelman, that the work of laying track up to Christmas will be followed by a resumption of work on the grade from that point to San Carlos. It is also probable that work will soon be inaugurated by that company on the link from Florence to Casa Grande or Maricopa, as the closing of this gap and the San Carlos gap would complete their new transcontinental line to California and give them the highest average grade yet obtained across the continent. The San Carlos gap is about thirty miles in length and the gap between Florence and Casa Grande or Maricopa is about the same length. It will be seen by this that sixty miles of road building will complete this new main line, and such a cut-off will save the fifty-one mile haul between here and Phoenix. Fifty-one miles saved on a main line track is an advantage many railroad companies have spent millions of dollars to obtain.—Blade.

Fourth of July Privileges
The method of granting concessions for vending privileges during the celebration of July 4th and 5th (excepting confetti and novelties, which privilege has already been granted) has been changed and after this issue of the Silver Belt, space along Broad street, not obstructing streets or walks, will be allotted as follows: Each applicant after receiving permission from the city marshal or property owner, as the case may be, will be granted a permit for the sale of goods specified, and in location named, for the sum of one dollar per front foot, excepting that no offer of less than ten dollars will be accepted. Privileges for other locations will be sold at a lower rate. Apply to A. H. STERN, Chairman.
